

Zulene Mayfield is the founder and Chairperson of Chester Residents Concerned for Quality Living (CRCQL). Through her dedicated leadership over the years, CRCQL has become a nationally and internationally recognized community organization fighting for the rights of the predominantly black, brown, and low-income residents of the city of Chester, and for all marginalized communities. Ms. Mayfield is a highly sought-after public speaker and lecturer at colleges and universities across the country and consults with numerous non-profit organizations.

Ms. Mayfield served as a member of NEJAC (National Environmental Justice Advisory Committee) from 1995-1997 and is the recipient of several awards including the NAACP's Sojourner Truth Award and the city of Chester's Civic Leaders Award for her work addressing childhood lead poisoning. See the links below from the PA Conservation Heritage Website for more information on Ms. Mayfield:

<https://paconservationheritage.org/stories/zulene-mayfield/>

<https://paconservationheritage.org/documentaries/> - Justice in Chester video